The "full dinner-pail" is credited with having a good deal to do with Republican success in 1900. The "meatless dinner-pail" may prove a factor in 1902.

That facetious and at times sarcastic contemporary, the Washington Post says: "After showing what a fine thing the trusts are for the public, the makers of the Republican campaign text book proceed to demonstrate how the administration is going to smash them."

But, has the administration any idea of smashing them? They are in the main responsible for the administration's existence, and the creature will not be so unnatural as to destroy its creator.

ACTIONS SPEAK LOUDER THAN WORDS.

The President declares his enmity against the trusts. But has he and the Congress he has under him exhausted the means now at their command against them? Until they have done so, shall they be taken seriously? Before asking for a change of our Constitution, why do they not exhaust the means they now have? Congress can do these things whenever it chooses:

1. It can revise the tariff, so that the trusts which it now protects shall be deprived of shelter.

2. It can strengthen the hands of the Interstate Commerce Commission so that that body may effectually interfere with the criminal conspiracy which exists between the railroads and the trusts, the purpose of the conspiracy being to shut out competitors.

3. It can amend the Sherman Anti-Trust law so as to make prosecution of the trusts speedier, and increase the penalties for infractions of the law.

The Department of Justice, which is wholly under the President's control, can do these things:

1. It can prosecute offenders under the existing Sherman Anti-Trust law in good faith and with the same energy that Attorney General Knox would have shown in prosecuting any rascal who might have tried to break into one of the trusts for which he was the attorney before he took office.

2. The Department of Justice, whenever it elects to do so, can proceed against the trust lawbreakers criminally as well as civilly.

Anti-trust talk without anti-trust action, as Mr. Roosevelt well knows, amounts to nothing. Or, to quote his own language:

"Words are good when backed up by deeds, and only so."

The Republican party for six years has been in full possession of the Federal Government. During that time it has done nothing to curb the trusts. Why? One reason is because the Republican party owes its election largely to the campaign fund contributed by the trusts.

Advertised Letters.

The following is a list of letters remaining in the postoffice at Maysville, Mason County, Ky., for the week ending Wednesday, September 10th, 1902:

Carter, Charles | Kanases, Mrs. Jose
 Fagen, Miss Lucie | No. 50 East Front st.
 Klesum, M. L. | Shepherd, M.
 Rossman, Mrs. P.

Persons calling for any of the above will please say advertised.

CLARENCE MATHEWS, P. M.

The work of grading for the Tug river branch of the Norfolk and Western road in the Big Sandy valley is going on at a rapid rate. This grade runs with the grade of the Tug river, and has a fall of one foot to the mile. The location is eight feet above high-water mark. It is claimed that when this road is completed a loaded car would run the entire distance from Naugatuck to Kenova without any help.

The Coroner's jury engaged in investigating the death of Reuben Stockdale has not yet rendered a verdict. Mr. Wm. Clements, engineer of the train that some think struck Stockdale, was here Tuesday and gave his testimony. He is quite positive that no one was on the track at the point in question when his train passed East Saturday night.

Mr. George Enochs, of Cincinnati, and Miss Sallie Morris, of Flemingsburg, were married here this morning. The groom is a blacksmith and this is his second marriage.

Dress Goods Counter!

A handful of Rainette Cloth caught by chance to sell for $1 a yd. There is no reason for selling it at less than its true value—$1.50—except our policy, when we get a thing at a reduced price, to give it to you on the same terms. We have six colors in this quick-sale bargain lot, navy, black, 2 grays, 2 browns and prettier shades you couldn't ask. The cloth was woven and dyed in Alsace where they know best how to do it. The width is 60 inches, the weight heavy—just correct for coat suits and run-about skirts. It is exactly the quality priced, and justly, at $1.50 last season. Isn't a third saved a big consideration for any purse? If you are considering a utility skirt or gown do yourself the justice to examine this bargain.

Transferred to Louisville Conference, George H. Means, E. H. Means and L. G. Wallace; transferred to Illinois Conference, C. L. Bohon; transferred to Columbia Conference, John Reeves.

The assignment of Rev. Dr. Taylor to Nicholasville occasions sincere regret among his many friends here. They hoped he would be sent back to Maysville. It is learned another effort will be made to have this done yet, and send some one else to Nicholasville. Rev. Dr. Evans, who was assigned to the First Church here, was formerly at Lexington, and is one of the leading ministers of the conference.

The promotion of Rev. J. S. Sims, formerly of this city, to the position of Presiding Elder of the Covington district was a merited honor to one of the ablest members of the conference.

Edward Allen, who had charge of Mitchell Chapel last year, has taken the work of a singing evangelist.

J. A. Sawyer, who was acquitted of the charges preferred against him at Dover, received a supernumerary relation.

F. S. Pollitt was sent to Floydsburg, near Louisville, having been acquitted of the charge of unbecoming conduct.

John Reeves was transferred to the Columbia Conference, Oregon.

Pure cider vinegar.—Calhoun's.

Wes. Oakley, a well connected young man of Bath County, is in custody on charge of attempting to criminally assault Miss Pearl Medley of Salt Lick.

Andy Craig was fined $25 and costs by Judge Whitaker Tuesday on a charge of whipping his wife. Andy will spend a season now helping harvest the city's crop of weeds.

From March 14, 1900, to August 31, 1902, 297 national banks with a capital of $14,666,500 were organized in the Southern States. Texas leads the list, and Kentucky comes next with a total of twenty-one.
